ner, Minister of Austra at Paris, and the Count Hatzfeldt, Minister of Prussia at Paris, both members of the Peace Conference, and both unusually peaceable looking individuals. The Austrian Minister is a thin young man, with smooth face and fair complexion, who looks more like a Yankee schoolmaster than a leading member of the great Austrian school of diplomacy. But he has thought and work in his face, and although he appears gay and lighthearted under the protection of the stars and stripes of America, there is an air of restlessness in his movements which shows the man of ambition. The Count Hatzfeldt is a more pretentious looking man, with bald head, black moustache, and his coat buttoned up tight to the throat, so as to expose to greater advantage the two stars set in diamonds which glitter on his breast. The Countess de Hatzfeldt passes for a beauty in Berlin, and is certainly a fine type of the elegant, well-bred German lady.

That tall, demure-looking man, who speaks to nobody, is the Duke de Cambaceres, Grand Master of Ceremonies at the Palace. The short, heavy man, at the chimney, with profuse decorations and neglige dress, is M. Feuillet de Conches, Chief of the ureau of Protocols at the Ministry of Foreign Afairs, and Introducer of Ambassadors at the Palace. few years ago M. Feuillet de Conches was a euilletoniste of one of the Paris journals-now he is pet at the Court. It was this gentleman, you will recollect, who was charged a few days ago with the weighty honor of preparing the quill which was to sign the Treaty of Peace, and which was to be presented afterwards to the Empress. It was he who plucked the quill from the eagle at the Garden of Plants; and as he stands there talking to the Baron Seebach and Count Sartiges, you hear him making a noise in imitation of some animal which puts one's knowledge of natural history at fault, but which is, no doubt, a souvenir of his late visit to the Garden of Plants after the eagle feather. He is an important ussy individual, and his political fortune is made. In the dancing room you see a collection of as beautiful ladies and of as unexceptionable toilettes publishing the resolutions, says : as it is possible to meet. The youthful, charming, and, for the evening, busy Misses Mason; the Misses Hutton, Corbyn, Parnell, Yorke, Barton and Bigelow, and the queenly Creole beauty from New Orleans, Madame Pilie, make a bouquet of American beauty in which each is a rare flower, and which

Every one was delighted with Mrs. Mason's ball. here is somehow a congeniality at an American oiree in Paris, which seems to thaw out the good character of popularity which none other can acquire. REVIEW OF THE WILMINGTON MARKET, FOR THE WEEK ENDING MAY 1ST, 1856.

TURPENTINE-Owing to the dry weather which has prevailed for some time past, the river is now at a very low stage, and nothing has come in from above tide-way. As nearly or quite all of last year's erop has been brought to market (except from above tide-way) the receipts have been confined to small parcels per rail road and coasting vessels. One or two lots of new virgin have been brought in and sold at $3. There is a fair demand from distillers, and the market has ruled firm at $1 92 for dry virgin, $2 40 for yellow dip and $1 40 for hard, $2 280 fbs. The

S. W. WHITAKER. Corron-Since our last review there has been but little doing in this article, owing mainly to the fact that the par-cels on market have been held at figures above the views of Lace and Muslin Collars and Undersleeves; Embroidbuyers. On Thursday sales were made at 102 cents for ered Handkerchiefs, with some great bargains in Plain Summer WINES, consisting of various grades: Clarets, in middling to good middling, and Friday at 104 cents for as- Swiss Jaconet and Embroidered Muslins. cases and Bottles; Red Wine, by the gallon or Bottle; Seup- sorted grades, (from ordinary to middling fair.) No sales pernong, from Lake Scuppernong, by the gallos or Bottle; since. The advices from Europe by the steamer Persia, (ar-Champagne, various brands; Ale, Cider, in barrels and Bot-rived Tuesdayrat New York,) represent a further advance in CORN MEAL-Nothing doing except in the small way-Fair supply on market and demand limited. We quote at 75 @ 80 cents # bushel.

> EMPTY BARRELS-The market for Spirits Turpentine barrels remains about the same as last reported, with small sales at prices ranging from $1 50 to $1 75 each for second hand, as in quality. FISH-No arrivals of either description since last review, and quotations in table represent store rates.

FEATHERS-Are in full supply, and dull at quotations.

See table. FLOUR—We have no material alteration to notice in the market for this article, and prices are about the same as quoted on this day week. The advices from other markets next. ontinue to represent a decline, and buyers here do not seem By order disposed to purchase more than what is sufficient for immediate wants. The receipts for the past week have been light, and the supply in first hands of the finer qualities has been slightly reduced;—the lower grades are in full stock, and decidedly dull. Lime—There has been but little demand the past week; the supply on market is light, though sufficient for present purposes. See table for store rates, in quantities as wanted.

LUMBER-River-No sales; market dull. Our quotations in table are for last sales.

Molasses-Has been in fair demand throughout the week, and in the absence of receipts the stock of Cuba in first hands has been all closed off from wharf at 32 @ 34 cents # gallon,

PEA NUTS-Few or none coming in. We note the sale on Monday of 425 bushels at $1 50 $2 bushel, and Tuesday 681 do. at same price, bags included, for fair quality. POTATOES-The market is well supplied with Irish, and dull. Sales at auction of several small parcels at prices ranging from 75 cents to $1 50 $2 bbl., according to quality.

PROVISIONS—For N. C. cured Bacon there has been a steady demand for retailing purposes during the week, but in the absence of receipts worthy of note there have been only small transactions at 12 cents for shoulders, 132 cents for hams and 121 cents 19 1b. for hog round ;-one lot of extra quality hams brought 14 cents; sides bring 12 @ 124 cents. For Western cured there has been rather more enquiry, and prices have an upward tendency; light stock on market. On Monday 22 hhds. sold at 10 cents # 15. for sides, 90 days; and on Tuesday - hhds. at 11 cents, cash; shoulders are held at 91 @ 10 cents—generally at latter price.

LARD-The market is nearly bare of N. C. make and we notice considerable enquiry from grocers. No receipts of moment since our last, and but small sales at quotations. See table. No Western make on market --- Butter-Is in moderate supply, and Northern sells from store at 24 @ 27 cents ₩ lb., as in quality. ——PONK-No change in the price of Northern Mess. The stock in store is moderate, and demand limited ;-small sales at quotations. See table. SALT-The supply of both Liverpool sack and Alum is air, with a light demand. About 900 sacks of the former sold on Monday at $1 # sack, 90 days." No sales of the latter. SHINGLES-Rule decidedly dull, and in the absence of sales we are unable to give a fair quotation of the market. Prices in our table are merely nominal. TIMBER-During the past week has ruled very dull, and there is no disposition on the part of millers to purchase; prices tend downward. No sales. Several rafts on market unsold. FREIGHTS--Coastwise rates are without change. Very ittle country produce arriving, and plenty of vessels in port.

CHARLESTON, April 29.-Cotton-The sales to-day reached upwards of 2,900 bales, about 2,000 of which were sold after the receipt of the Persia's advices, on which sellers realized prices they were unable to obtain previous to the receipt of these advices. The transactions ranged from
